objection to the order complained of, is that it will upset the Cooley award, under which rates have been adjusted throughout a large section. But that, too, was a matter for consideration by the Commission which by this order has not lost power to restore the old rates, or to make changes in the new if it shall be found that those put in force, unjustly discriminate in favor of New Orleans against other cities.

The order of the Commission, restoring a local rate that had been in force for many years, and making a corresponding reduction in the through rate, was not arbitrary but sustained by substantial, though conflicting evidence. The courts cannot settle the conflict nor put their judgment against that of the rate-making body, and the decree is Reversed.
